DIRECTOR'S WELCOME

董事会欢迎致词

Noble House Asia specialises in connecting the UK, Europe, Asia Pacific and the global community through a variety of programmes. We offer internships, study abroad and travel programmes, as well as teach English placements to graduates and undergraduates on a global scale. Being able to provide such diverse options we venture to fulfil a wide variety of individual aspirations and ambitions.

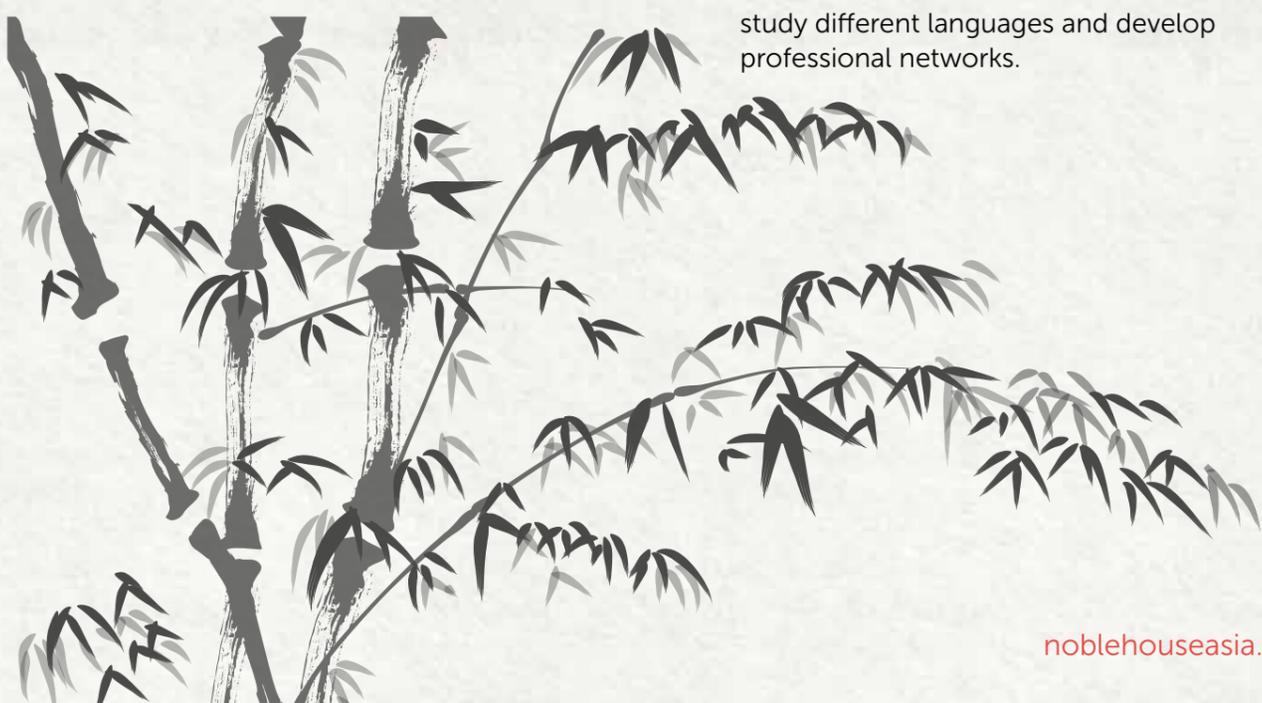

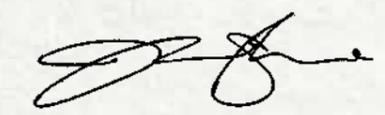

As a leading provider of such developmental and educational packages, we are partnered with a variety of companies and institutions in many major cities, providing students and graduates with the opportunity to further their personal and professional development. This unique experience allows participants to gain insight into international business culture, study different languages and develop professional networks.

Progression and development after university is vital. Many graduates understandably struggle post-graduation and we appreciate how important it is to be productive and positive at this stage. With our experience and networks, we endeavour to be the perfect conduit for graduates and undergraduates to fulfil their ambitions and realise their potential.

Noble House Asia are committed to international education and professional development and believes that an exchange of young people helps to create more open, international citizens and a stronger global society. We hope to continue this trend of growth through partnerships with universities, corporations, and governments across the world.

We have first-hand experience as to the advantages of working, studying and living in an international setting, in the most exciting cities in the world. It's a fantastic opportunity. We really do want to help, so come and say hello.

I have completed 2 years living and working in Shanghai. I am very grateful for the experience and Shanghai is one of the most spectacular cities I have visited.

I found Chinese people very welcoming, both strangers and students. I have made friends that i hope to keep for life and an experience I shall always value. Living and working in another country is a challenge, but it's worth it...
